Is it anybody's business
If a centieman should choose
To wait upon a lady
If the lady don't refuse?
Or, to speak a little plainer,
Is it anybody's business
If a lady has a beau?

Is it anybody's business
When a gentleman does call,
Or when he leaves the lady,
Or if he leaves at all? Or is it necessary That the cartain should be drawn, To save from farther trouble The outside lookers-on?

Is it anybody's business
But the Indy's, if her beau
Bides out with other ladies,
And doesn't let her know?
Is it anybody's business
But the gentleman's, if she
Should accept mother escort
Where he doesn't chance to be?

Is a person on the sidewalk.
Whether great or whether small,
Is it anybody's business
Where that person means to call?

Or if you see a persen, And he's calling anywhere, Is it any of your business What his business may be there? The substance of our query, Simply stated, would be this: Is it anybody's business What another's business is?

If it is, or if it isn't.
We would really like to know,
For we are certain if it isn't.
There are some who make it so.

[For the Dispatch.] The Beautiful Night. Now I leave the joyful solace
Of my gay and happy home,
Wander at the slowest pace
Through the dark, deserted forest.
The moon breaks through the glant oak,
The zephyr gently shows its presence,
And the birch's scattered fallings
Give the sweetest frankincense.

How refreshing is the breeze Of this pretty summer night!
Ob. how silently I seize
That which gives my soul delight!
I scarce can tell you all the sights,
And yet, oh Heaven, I would shew
A thousand of your pretty nights,
If my sweetheart gave me one.

A and B buy a farm together, containing two hundred acres, at $2 per acre, amount-ing to $400. Now, as A gets the best portion of the farm he agrees to give $2.25 per acre and takes his two hundred dollars' worth. B would therefore give $1.75 per nere for his two hundred dollars' worth. How many acres would they each get? Will some of your correspondents please CARY STREET. work out this sum?

CALEB CUSHING .- Age cannot wither, nor custom stale, the infinite variety of Caleb Cushing's office-hunting. At seventy-nine years of age he is talked of as an independent candidate for Congress from the Sixth Massachusetts district. He is still hale and hearty. Some fifty years ago he commenced his career of office-holding, being elected the first mayor of Newburyport, where he practiced law. He served several terms in the Massachusetts Legislature, and from 1835 to 1841 was a member of Congress. He was a commissioner to China and negotiated the treaty of 1844 with the Celestials. He was on the Supreme Bench of Massachusetts, and became Pierce's Attorney-General and Grant's Minister to Spain. He served in the Mexican war as a colonel of volunteers; has been Whig, Democrat, Republican, rebel, and truly loyal; an author of books and political platforms, and always a hard worker, disturbed in the closeness of his application only by yellow dogs, to which he has a supreme aversion.—Chicago

RUSSIA STRIKES ILE.—Yankees are to sink wells and refine petroleum in the oil-regions of Russia, on the western shore of the Caspian sea. Agents, representing one of the wealthiest firms in St. Petersburg, have recently made a tour of the oil-regions of Pennsylvania, and have purchased and shipped to Russia all the machinery necessary for drilling and sinking wells. To operate this machinery a number of experienced oildrillers have been engaged, at the head of whom is George Adams, of Oil City. These men are to be paid large sums in gold. The Caspian oil-wells average about six hundred feet in depth, and produce daily from forty to two hundred barrels each. The oil is very heavy, having a specific gravity of thirty, and is comparatively free from sediment. It has to be carried many hundred miles up the Caspian sea and the Volga river to Novgorod, whence it has to be shipped by rail to St. Petersburg. The cost of transportation has been so heavy that American oil has always been sold at lower rates than Russian oil. The Czar, realizing what an important industry can be created in his country by fostering the development of its oil territory, has directed the imposition of a tax equivalent to $3.50 a barrel on all foreign oil.

One of the best solutions of the tramp problem comes from Williamstown, Mass. In accordance with the State law the citizens of that village entertain their stray guests overnight at the lockup, and in the morning make them pay for their lodging and breakfast by working for the Village Improvement Society. The expense of the town is thus reduced to a minimum, and the Society gets such work as lawn-raking, road-filling, and ditch-digging for a mere song. Sentimentalists also may see a noble feature in this arrangement in the chance it offers the tramps to cultivate æsthetic

A Washington letter-writer has it from undoubted authority that President Hayes at one time seriously thought of putting ex-Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, in his Cabinet. He asked a prominent senator what sort of a man Jewell was. "Jewell," said the senator, "is a fine combination of white hair and white shirt-bosoms, with no brains under the one and no heart behind the other."

General Carl Schurz was not wounded during the war, but that ought not to inter-fere with his retirement under full pay. The rebel bullets meant well, but, being nimed at Schurz's legs, their failure to suc-ceed in their deadly mission will be understood .- Chicago Times.
